Commissioner for Patents

The amendment filed on May 14, 2007 canceling all subject matter drawn to the elected invention and presenting only claims drawn to a non-elected invention is non-responsive (MPEP § 821.03). The remaining claims do not read on the elected invention for the following reasons:

In the response of October 16, 2006, Applicants elected the invention of "Group I" and particularly elected the subject matter of the -511 IL-1B marker.

As set forth in the non-final Office action of November 13, 2006, the claims were examined only to the extent that they read on the elected invention of kits comprising a means for the detection of the -511 marker of IL-1B. The subject matter of the additional alleles set forth in previously pending claims 1, 3, 5 and 17 were withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to a non-elected invention. In the Office action of November 13, 2006, it was specifically stated that claim 2, drawn to a kit containing a means to detect 2 or more of the recited alleles, was also withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

The Office action of November 13, 2006 clearly addressed the fact that the restriction requirement required Applicant to elect one or a specific combination of alleles (see groups 19-153 set forth on page 3 of the Office action of June 14, 2006). In response, Applicant elected the single allele of -511 IL-1B. Applicant did NOT elect a combination of alleles, and particularly did not elect the combination of alleles of -511 IL-1B and one or more or each of the additional alleles recited in claims 1 and 5.

In view of the amendment of May 14, 2007, all of the remaining claims is directed to a non-elected invention.

EXTENSIONS OF THIS TIME PERIOD UNDER 37 CFR 1.136(a) ARE AVAILABLE.
